UNDERWATER LIFT BAGS

An underwater lift bag is the only piece of diving equipment that can pay for itself each time it is used!

Our underwater lift bags have one or more handles and tie-off points to make them easy to grasp and secure both in and out of the water.

Our underwater lift bags are designed to be folded and rolled into compact, negatively buoyant rolls that are easy for the diver to handle and deploy underwater.

The over-pressure valves on our underwater lift bags are designed to adequately vent the air from a fully charged bag on a free ascent from any depth.
